Qualification overview

The purpose of this qualification is to provide learners with the knowledge and skills to be able to contribute to the planning and development of schemes of work in primary physical education. Learners will be able to devise and deliver learning activities and lessons linked to the curriculum and technical syllabus for primary physical education, incorporating differentiated learning activities and assessment for learning, as well as being able to lead extracurricular multi-skill activity sessions.

Who could do this qualification?

Learners must hold a Level 3 qualification in Supporting Teaching and Learning or Supporting Physical Education in Schools (or equivalent). In certain circumstances extensive experience of working within primary schools can be considered, but this must be supported by the school's head teacher.

Learners must be able to apply factual and theoretical knowledge and be able to use a range of cognitive and practical skills to support primary physical education practice within schools. This will require learners to work in both predictable and unpredictable situations using knowledge, skills and competencies pitched at Level 4 on the RQF.

The qualification has been designed for:

- Individuals who wish to work and/or seek employment in primary physical education and/or school sports settings.
- Individuals considering a career in education in the field of primary physical education and/or school sports.
- Individuals already working as teaching assistants wishing to specialise in primary physical education.

What does the qualification cover?

During the qualification learners will cover the following:

- The principles of primary physical education.
- The physical development of children.
- Planning, delivering and evaluating extracurricular multi-skill activity sessions.
- Promoting active healthy lifestyles.
- Planning, delivering and evaluating a unit of work in physical education.
- Planning and delivering educational gymnastics.
- Leading a school sporting event or competition.
